lcm95060: Fuck! be careful! "...The e-mails obtained before Christmas Day will vastly improve our ability to continue that " OUR? http://www.examiner.com/anonymous-in-national/lulzxmas-anonymous-scores-stratfor-fails me: "our" as in our research lcm95060: How do they say... "Can and WILL be used against you..." or now just "WILL:be"? lcm95060: Some cybertwist on that lcm95060: Sigh... just another unindicted co-conspirator. They tagged everyone they could identify in the 75River takeover here as 'property terrorists'... even the legal liaison.
me: my arrest would bring attention to the issues I've been promoting lcm95060: Would it sell more books? Kidding. lcm95060: CommanderX isd jealous... He wants a book deal too. I explained that one needs to be a good writer first... but I don't think he was listening.
me: he can get a ghostwriter me: he'll need to talk to a literary agent first lcm95060: He's too busy bragging to do anything. He expects others to do it for him.
lcm95060: An ego as big as Tahrir Square. I told him that one day.
lcm95060: Again... I don't think he was listening me: he does say wacky things sometimes, indeed lcm95060: He's spun. His previous nick was "Curbhugger Chris". He serially sat on a corner in town panhandling... and again... bragging. Not big on the sharing department, which doesn't fly too well when you're surviving on the street.
lcm95060: He went off a couple of times at #OccupySantaCruz.

I finally got out of thge way when it was coopted by prog-liberals during the 75 river takeover lcm95060: Five years from now someone will be making money selling #Occupy ball caps and bumper stickers, lcm95060: But he IS an interesting character. Wouldn't trust him as far as I can throw him but that's the way I feel about almost everyone.
